

REID'S HERITAGE HOMES

Press Release

Reid's Heritage Homes is proud to announce the appointment of Tara Ballantyne as Vice President, Residential Construction.

"With over two decades of extensive experience and proven industry knowledge, Tara is a natural fit for her new position. Tara has touched on many facets of our industry, demonstrating immense strength in both design and corporate leadership. She displays a natural talent for building strong partnerships based on mutual respect and collaboration.

Tara's innate passion for people and new home construction is why she makes each of her decisions with the customer and her team at the forefront.

As the new Vice President of Construction Tara will lead a strong team of experienced construction professionals to continue to deliver a best-in-class product to our customers while maintaining focus on our customer-centric business model.

I look forward to working closely with Tara and I am confident that she will continue to elevate the Reid's Heritage and Sherwood Home's brands to new and unprecedented levels in the years to come."

Ron McMillan
President, Reid's Heritage Homes & Sherwood
Homes Ltd.

"I am honoured and excited to join the Reid's Heritage Homes Team in this new capacity with a clear focus on our Construction, Estimating & Procurement and Safety Teams. Alongside our strong and dynamic leadership group I plan to commit my attention and efforts on building science and design solutions for our ever changing industry that improve our processes, benefits our team members, and in turn foster the continuous delivery of quality built products which contribute to our homeowner's satisfaction.

I'm inspired by the exceptional site and office team that together make up our successful organization and I could not be more optimistic about our future."
